

The Skill Shift — One-Page Summary

The half-life of technical skills is shrinking. Employers hire for adaptability and demonstrable outcomes. Trade degree-centred signaling for public, small projects plus micro-credentials. Ship mini-projects, document process, and publish results. Prioritise analytical thinking, communication, technical fluency, design thinking, emotional intelligence, product sense, adaptability, ethical judgement, resilience, and continuous learning.